TEACHER’S GUIDE
Cheater. Traitor. Slut.

Quinn’s done the unthinkable: she kissed a guy who is not Carey, her boyfriend. And she got caught. Shunned by everyone she knows, Quinn loses her friends, her reputation, and her identity. Because Carey’s not just any guy—he’s a Marine who’s serving overseas, and he’s beloved by everyone in their small military town.

But Quinn didn’t cheat. She could clear her name, but that would mean revealing secrets she’s vowed to keep—secrets that aren’t hers to share. So she stays silent, and waits for Carey to come home.

Then Carey goes MIA, and Quinn must decide how far she’ll go to protect her boyfriend . . . and her promise.

ACTIVITIES ALIGNED WITH COMMON CORE STANDARDS

• Determine a theme of If I Lie and show how it has developed over the course of the novel. Support your ideas with at least three specific events in the story. (Reading: Key Ideas and Details/Writing: Literary Analysis)

• Determine two themes of If I Lie and make a soundtrack for the novel using songs that convey these two themes. For each song, include a copy of the lyrics and a paragraph you have written that explains how the song fits one of the themes and where in the story the song would take place. Include at least ten songs. (Reading: Key Ideas and Details/Writing: Literary Analysis)

• Write an essay in which you analyze how a character of your choice has changed over the course of the novel. Cite specific events to support your thesis. (Reading: Key Ideas and Details/Writing: Literary Analysis)

• Choose a scene from the novel, rewrite the scene, then outline the original version. Create a word cloud using the words or phrases that contribute to her tone. Present your word cloud to the class. You can make your word cloud by hand or use a website like worldle.net or tagxedo.com to create it. (Reading: Craft and Structure/Writing: Narrative/Writing: Literary Analysis)

• Choose a scene where Quinn’s emotions are particularly strong. Determine her tone in this passage. Create a “word cloud” using the words or phrases that contribute to her tone. Present your word cloud to the class. (Reading: Craft and Structure/Writing: Narrative)

• Research a topic related to the novel such as photojournalism, the Vietnam War, the Iraq War, or the Veterans History Project. Write a report and present your information to the class. Be sure to cite all sources used accurately. (Writing: Research/Listening and Speaking)

• Choose a defining moment in your own life and write a story about it using figurative language and at least one flashback, using If I Lie as a model. (Writing: Narrative)

- Make a “found poem” that shows how Quinn changes over the course of the novel. To do this, pick several phrases or lines from throughout the poem and arrange them in a new, interesting, and poetic way. (Reading: Key Ideas and Details/Reading: Craft and Structure)

- Read The Scarlet Letter by Nathaniel Hawthorne and write an essay in which you compare Hester Prynne and Quinn. Support your ideas with specific events and quotes from each novel. (Reading: Integration of Knowledge and Ideas/Writing: Literary Analysis)

- Find a poem that you feel represents a theme or a character in If I Lie. Write a brief essay analyzing the poem and relating it to the novel. Use specific evidence from both the poem and the novel to support your idea. (Reading: Key Ideas and Details/Reading: Craft and Structure/Writing: Literary Analysis)

VETERANS HISTORY PROJECT — FOR EDUCATORS & STUDENTS

All Veterans History Project information has been borrowed from their website with permission. (http://www.loc.gov/vets)

The Veterans History Project (VHP) is an important aspect of Quinn and George’s relationship. If students are inspired by Quinn’s experience, they may consider interviewing a veteran in their life or community.

Students and youth groups throughout the United States have contributed significantly to the Veterans History Project. The VHP encourages participation of students tenth grade and above. Indicating the school or group on the required forms with interview submissions will ensure proper credit in the database.

ABOUT THE VETERANS HISTORY PROJECT

The Veterans History Project (VHP) honors American war veterans and the civilian workers who supported them by preserving stories of their service to our country. The U.S. Congress voted unanimously in October 2000 for legislation to create the Veterans History Project at the American Folklife Center at the Library of Congress. VHP relies on volunteers throughout the nation to collect veterans’ stories on behalf of the Library of Congress. They depend on people like you to record and submit first person narratives by wartime veterans.

VHP archives its collections at the Library of Congress and makes them available to researchers and the public. In addition to compiling a unique archive for scholars, the Veterans History Project hopes to inspire future generations with these stories of service to our country.

HOW STUDENTS AND TEACHERS CAN GET INVOLVED

Visit www.loc.gov/vets/vets-home.html to download a Field Kit. The Field Kit pdf outlines the five steps for participating in the Veterans History Project:

- STEP 1: LEARNING ABOUT VHP
- STEP 2: INTERVIEW PREPARATION
- STEP 3: HOW TO CONDUCT AN INTERVIEW
- STEP 4: HOW & WHERE TO SEND IN YOUR COLLECTION
- STEP 5: WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR COLLECTION AT VHP

GUIDELINES FOR STUDENTS/YOUTH PARTICIPATION

These observations are based on the Veterans History Project’s experiences with young adult volunteers:

- Appropriate grade levels: grades 10–12 and higher. Lower grades require significantly more guidance and supervision.
- The VHP wants oral histories that tell more than the dates and places of service: wartime veterans and civilians have extensive stories to share.
- They also accept original letters, diaries, and photographs with the recorded interview.
- Educators may want to familiarize students with interviewing:
  - Have students study and report on the VHP Experiencing War website: http://www.loc.gov/vets/stories/
  - Work with the school librarian or media specialist
  - Practice interviewing
  - Assign readings and view videos such as Saving Private Ryan or We Were Soldiers to provoke group discussion
  - Background resources on each war are available on the VHP website.
- Interviews should be at least thirty minutes long.
- Help your students structure their interviews:
  - Background and entry into the service
  - Training
  - Wartime service and experiences
  - End of service and life afterwards
  - A sample interview from a youth participant is available online: http://www.loc.gov/vets/youth-resources.html#samples
- Adapt the VHP sample questions and ask other questions as the interview unfolds. Do not interrupt or rush through questions.
- If transcribing an interview, check the spelling of unfamiliar terms and place names. A sample interview transcript from a youth participant is available online.
- Teachers should review the quality of each submission prior to shipping to the Library of Congress.
- All forms must be fully completed, including the Biographical Data Form and Audio and Video Recording Log Form. Samples of Audio and Video Recording Logs from youth participants are available online.
- The Interviewer Release Form must be signed by a parent or guardian if the interviewer is under eighteen.
