

Watersong

Activity Sheet

With a drip, drop, plip, plop, the rain starts—just a sprinkle at first. In Watersong, told in glorious onomatopoeia, author Tim McCanna and illustrator Richard Smythe take the reader on a dazzling journey as a fox seeks shelter from a rainstorm.

Onomatopoeia is the naming of a thing or action by a vocal imitation of the sound associated with it. Some examples are splash, giggle, and meow. Read Watersong and then identify a new onomatopoeia not used in the book. Write it down and draw an illustration of it below.
