"A soothing, poetic look at a common nighttime routine."

—KIRKUS REVIEWS

"Hosford's melodious rhymes and Jones's serene, soft-edged paintings highlight a caregiver and child's grounding partnership in this lullaby-like story."

—PUBLISHERS WEEKLY

"The epitome of a bedtime book."

—THE HORN BOOK

THIS WHIMSICAL PICTURE BOOK celebrates the loving, playful, and imaginative relationship between caregiver and child through a shared dreamy journey before bedtime.

*The wind is calling. Hear it sweep through our village, fast asleep.
Will you sail away with me?
You and I are salt and sea...*

And so, bathtime turns into a magical expedition. A grown-up and child embark on the voyage together, meeting mermaids in the sea, playing hide-and-seek in an enchanted forest, and soaring with the birds before sailing home to read and snuggle in for bedtime, which they know is just another adventure beginning.

Through it all, they cherish the most important thing in both dreamland and the real world: being together.
